

The WHAT and the HOW of Research Data Management

Towards a unified view of train-the-trainer competencies

Train-the-trainers courses and training modules for library staff, students and researchers were given in the context of the project "Train 2 Dacar"¹ of the HEG Genève.

REFERENCES

1. HEG GENÈVE. Projekt Train 2 Dacar. Filière Information documentaire, études bilingues [online]. 2016. [Accessed 19.09.2016]. http://campus.hesge.ch/id_bilingue/projekte/train2dacar/default.asp
2. TRELOAR, Andrew, GROENEWEGEN, David and HARBOE-REE, Cathrine. The data curation continuum: managing data objects in institutional repositories. D-Lib magazine [online]. Vol. 13(2007), no. 9/10. DOI 10.1045/september2007-treloar
3. DCC. DCC curation lifecycle model. Digital Curation Centre [online]. 2016. [Accessed 19.09.16]. <http://www.dcc.ac.uk/resources/curation-lifecycle-model>
4. CLLN. Principles of adult learning. Canadian Literacy and Learning Network [online]. 2016. [Accessed 19.09.16]. <http://www.literacy.ca/professionals/professional-development-2/principles-of-adult-learning/>

René Schneider & Nicolas Prongué

We'd like to thank all participants of the DCC 2016 conference's workshop "Comparing approaches to curriculum development for research data handling" for their creative contributions.

rene.schneider@hesge.ch
nicolas.prongue@hesge.ch

h e g

Haute école de gestion
Genève